

DRAFT - NOT FOR CLIENT USE

Revive & Glow

SUMMARY FOR REVIEW BY FLORIDA COUNSEL

Purpose

To identify the minimum legal and operational requirements that should be established before clients receive services. This is a working summary, not a client agreement and not a definitive legal conclusion.

1. Business and services

- Business: Revive & Glow Wellness.
- Location: 9899 66th St N, Pinellas Park, FL 33782.
- Services for review: red light therapy, infrared sauna, cold plunge, compression therapy, vibration therapy, body composition assessment, grounding, and wellness hydration products.
- Peptides, GLP-1 medications, prescribing, laboratory testing, and physician-directed care are intended to remain under the applicable licensed medical provider and separate documentation.

2. Legal considerations already identified

Electronic signatures and records

- Florida recognizes electronic records and electronic signatures when the signer intends to sign and the parties agree to conduct the transaction electronically.
- When an electronic record must be retained, it should accurately reflect the final record and remain accessible for later reference.
- The workflow should therefore capture the signer's identity and intent, date and time, document version, and a retrievable copy associated with the client profile.

Protection of electronic personal information

- Florida businesses that acquire, store, maintain, or use personal information covered by Florida law must take reasonable measures to protect it.
- A person's name combined with health-related answers should not be sent through ordinary email or left visible on a shared reception tablet.
- The proposed concierge temporarily holds answers in the browser, protects staff access with a PIN, and clears the session upon completion or inactivity. Signed records are intended to be configured in Mindbody only after approval.

3. Important limitation

We have not concluded that Florida law requires one universal waiver containing every provision in the longer draft. The content that is actually mandatory may depend on the service, equipment, professional licensing, medical-provider relationship, client age, insurance policy, and actual operations.

Requested determinations

PLEASE DISTINGUISH LAW, INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS, AND OPTIONAL RISK-MANAGEMENT PRACTICES

1. For each service listed, is a signed informed consent, assumption-of-risk acknowledgment, waiver, or health screening legally required before participation?
2. What disclosures and contraindications are legally required for each modality?
3. Which conditions require exclusion, staff review, or written clearance from a licensed healthcare professional?
4. May one general consent cover the non-medical modalities, or are separate service-specific documents required?
5. Is an ordinary-negligence release appropriate and enforceable? If so, please provide or approve the language and identify all released parties.
6. What rules apply to minors, including minimum age and the signature of a parent or legal guardian?
7. How long must intake forms, consents, and signed records be retained, and when must clients sign again?
8. Does the proposed Mindbody electronic-signature workflow meet applicable attribution, access, copy, and retention requirements?
9. What privacy notices, third-party disclosures, security measures, and incident-response procedures are required?
10. Which documents and responsibilities must remain exclusively with the licensed provider for peptides, GLP-1 medications, laboratory testing, and medical services?
11. Does any modality require licensing, registration, supervision, signage, equipment specifications, or an emergency protocol?
12. Which additional waivers or procedures are required by the business's insurers, even if not independently required by law?

Proposed interim approach

- Keep the assessment educational and state that it does not provide diagnosis, treatment, medical advice, or medical clearance.
- Require an in-person safety review before confirming any service.
- Do not activate a release of liability or represent that a client has been medically cleared.
- Do not send detailed health answers through ordinary email; restrict tablet access and erase abandoned sessions.
- Do not activate client signatures until counsel identifies the necessary documents and approves the final language.
